

To whom it may concern,

My name is Connor Ben Vaughs, I am a graduate student at San Diego State University where I also earned a BA in Economics with a GPA of 3.22 in my upper division coursework. I have been working full time while studying as a full-time student throughout my entire collegiate career. I am now seeking employment in an analytical role for a company/organization which will further my understanding and application of the trade. Unlike many of my peers, I have real-world job experience. I have assumed challenging roles while working for local and multinational businesses while developing professional skills in and out the classroom. These roles coached me to be adaptable and derive a set of skills which have made me invaluable to my employers.

I am currently the general manager of an extremely successful casual dining restaurant, where I am responsible for Hiring, Scheduling, Food Cost, Sales Tracking, HR, Accounting, and compliance. I was asked to assume the position of general manager as a 21-year-old student after only being an entry level cashier for this establishment three months prior. This operation grosses roughly $150,000 monthly revenue.

As a testament to my work ethic, I have been either offered a promotion or promoted in every professional position I have held in my working career. This is because I work tirelessly on perfecting my craft and because of my ambitious aspirations of one day leaving a positive lasting impact on my community.

Here is what I am looking for in a prospective business/position:

- Dynamic and changing tasks
- Opportunity for internal growth
- Upward networking
- Development of technical skills
- Leadership opportunities
- Opportunity to impact my community

I have first-hand experience in many areas that require positive and friendly attitudes and timely completion of tasks that would translate very efficiently to this position. With my given understanding of the position being offered, my intuitive work ethic will fit the company seamlessly.

If I were a part of your company, the business would benefit from my skill sets which include:

- Strong Excel knowledge
- SQL Management and Analysis
- Friendly and personable character
- Spanish fluency
- Thorough and detailed final products
- Experience with Tableau/Stata

I know if I am granted employment with your company, I will uphold and add to the skilled hard-working team in your company. In the process I will not only adapt to changing demands, but also learn other skills from your staff of professionals to add to my own repertoire.

I look forward to learning from a very promising staff and management team, as well as working with a proactive group of individuals.

Respectfully,

Connor Ben Vaughs
